

Independent parallel baseline: agents run side-by-side without shared memory

This is the control condition: simultaneous agents get the same task but cannot see each other's hypotheses, results, or best code during the run.

The collector compares final outputs after both processes exit; it does not coordinate the search.